FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

No Engagement Since Sunday-Enemy Falling Back-Warren Advancing His Lines-He Drives the Rebels Before Him -Rebel and Union Losses.

[Correspondence Associated Press.] HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, August 23, 1864.—No engagement has taken place since Sunday. As was stated in yesterday's dispatch, the enemy has fallen back to their lines, two miles from Petersburg, where they are seen busily erecting strong Works, similar to those we first encountered on our arrival here. They are laboring night and day, with a large number of men, as though they were afraid of an attack before they get them completed.

Their main line runs near, and west of the Lead works, to the Southside road, which is strongly defended. Their picket line extends nearly a mile south of their works, with videttes thrown out near the Davis house. Richmond papers acknowledge a heavy loss in officers and men on Sunday morning, but claim that they have taken three thousand prisoners. Our losses in the 5th corps foot up as follows: Killed—officers, 17; men, 132. Wounded—officers, 74; men, 784. Missing—officers, 99; men, 2,853. In the Ninth Corps the casualties are about three hundred, which will make a total loss of four thousand two hundred and fifty-five in these commands since Thursday last. No doubt many reported missing will yet turn up, as some of our men have a bad habit, after a little reverse, of straggling to the rear. Of this loss General Crawford's division sustains the greatest proportion, he having lost about two thousand prisoners.

Col. Tilden, who was missing after the action of Friday, is safe. He was taken prisoner and with others conveyed to Petersburg, but during the excitement of loading them on the cars he managed to elude the vigilance of the guard and ran into some busbes, where he lay concealed until chance gave him an opportunity to get away, and he came into our lines on Monday, uninjured.

August 24 .- General Warren advanced his line over a mile along the railroad toward Petersburg yesterday, the rebel pickets falling back before his skirmishers.

The 1st division of the 2d corps were engaged yesterday all day in tearing up and burning the railroad as far as Ream's Station and beyond, a distance of about three miles, while that portion over which the 5th advanced was also completely destroyed.

All is quiet on the lines this morning, except the usual picket firing. Nine deserters came in last night, and also a number of contrabands. Most of the former express their willingness to take the oath of allegiance.

FINANCIAL.—The New York Commercial Advertiser of yesterday evening says:

The stock market continues heavy and depressed. In the absence of buyers for a rise, the "bears' bave stepped in and are driving everything before them. One large firm is "bearing" vigorously some of the principal stocks. Peace rumors are used freely in aid of the downward movement, and apparently with good effect. The present pressure to re-alize is to a considerable extent attributable to a large amount of buyers' options, contracted 15 and 30 days ago, now falling due. The buyers are unable to carry the stocks coming into their hands, and are therefore pressing them for sale. At the same time they are attempting to cover their loss by sellers' options, a good proportion of which appear in the stock lists. The whole movement of stocks, however, at present is decidedly feeble. Some of the leading spirits on 'Change are absent, and there will be no general activity until they return to take initiative. If the generally expressed opinion of the street may be relied upon, there will be a stock campaign on a grand scale in September, nothing political or financial oc-curring to prevent. This morning there was rather more spirit in the market, the downward movement of the last few days having brought buyers into the market. Large lots of some of the leading shares were thrown on the market by the "bears," but without materially weakening prices. Upon the whole, the movement of prices was upward. The sales were unusu-

Governments continue to move upward. It is understood that large foreign orders are on the market, waiting a favorable opportunity for execution, and this keeps up the strength of prices. Coupon 6's of '81 have advanced %, in sympathy with the high prices of Five-twenties. Certificates closed at 95 %, at which $100,-000 was sold. Five twenties closed firm at 113%, an advance of %. Ten-forties were in demand and improved %. The sales of bonds were not large.

The Express says: The peace rumors were revived in financial circles to-day, and had a very depressing influence for the time being on gold, stocks, produce and merchandise. There is a general desire for peace in the region of Wall street, and a great many people believe it is coming, but they do not know how they can get it. It was reported at the Gold and Stock Exchange that the Georgia Legislature had proclaimed for peace, and had called upon Sherman for protection and also that commissioners had arrived. The report also gained credence in some quarters that Alabama and North Carolina were also represented in Washington. The truth of these reports nobody could vouch for, but speculators are very credulous at present, and for the moment are inclined to believe almost any.

MILITARY AND CIVIL GOVERNMENT IN ALEXANDRIA.-Petitions are circulating in Alexandria and beyond the limits for signa-tures, addressed to Military Governor Slough, asking for the substitution of the military for the civil power, as at Norfolk. Should the prayer be granted, Governor Pierpont will, as a consequence, be superceded in his functions, and the State Government in that portion of the territory of Virginia over which he pre-

The Alexandria Journal, the official paper strongly condemns the movement, and says that some of the petitioners are men of no standing, while others are squatters and known

The Journal says: Upon a careful examination of the names of these signers, we find that out of fifty-seven, six only are taxpayers, many of them are notoriously disloyal, and many more are mere squatters, and will leave our city and the socalled restored government of Virginia to its fate as soon as the Army of the Potomac arrives in a position where they can relocate in its vi-

In conclusion, we would only say, as a part of the record, that the movement becoming known to President Lincoln, he addressed a communication at once to General Slough, no-tifying him that the military should not interfere with the civil power except where mili-tary necessity imperatively demanded it; that the people were no judges where that necessity should arise; that it was competent for the military commander alone to determine that, and that the sole responsibility would be upon him. As there is not even the pretence of military necessity in this case—as the State govern-Government in suppressing the rebellion—the responsibility was a little too great for any military commander to take upon his shoulders, so the whole matter drops to the ground.

FROM THE UPPER POTOMAC. Position of General Sheridan-The Rebels held in Check-The Potomac not Crossed

-Slight Skirmishing. [Cerrespondence Baltimore American.] HARPER'S FERRY, August 24.—The excitement here, resulting from the skirmish and cannonading of Sunday, has completely abated, and everything is as quiet and tranquil as though there were as a supplied to the skirmish of the miles. though there were no enemy within fifty miles of this place.

When Gen. Sheridan fell back to Halltown he made his last retrograde movement, and if the enemy are inclined to advance any further, they will have to fight Sheridan on ground of his own choice, and where it will be impossi-ble for them to either turn his flanks or interfere with his base of supply.

There was some slight skirmishing in front of Crook's command at daylight yesterday morning, which lasted for about an hour and then ceased almost entirely, leaving us in blissful quietness for the remainder of the day, disturbed only by an occasional shot as a re-minder that there was really a force of the en-emy in our front.

The strength of the rebel command has been variously estimated, but I think it does not exceed fifty thousand. From reliable information received yesterday from parties who have just left the rebel lines, it appears that Early's corps has received large reinforcements, nearly all his brigades and divisions having been doubled by recruits and detachments sent to reinforce them, and in addition two divisions of Longstreet's corps, under Pickets, with the whole of Fitzhugh Lee's cavalry are known

I do not think it is the intention of the rebels to attempt an invasion of either Maryland or Pennsylvania-they are too well informed of the preparations made for their reception should they embark in so foolbardy an enterprise as to attempt anything so palpably suicidal. They will be perfectly content if they can succeed in keeping Sheridan out of the Valley until they have succeeded in harvesting and sending to their rear the crops of wheat, corn, &c., of which their starving Confederacy stands so much in need. Reconnoitering parties sent out yesterday at different points along the line found the enemy in force, and prepared to resist an attack. It is a matter of conjecture whether similar parties sent out to day would find them in force Picket firing commenced in front of the Sixth Corps this morning, but up to the time of closing this despatch, 1 p. m., it has not amounted to anything serious. R. L. S. HALL Town, VA., Aug. 24.—Nothing of any especial importance has occurred during the past twenty-four hours along our front. A slight scattering fire has been kept up at intervals on different portions of our line of skirmishers, but no movement of definite result has taken place. Our troops, by dint of constant exertion, have contrived to render our naturally strong position one of impregnabil-ity, and the works erected by the Army of Western Virginia will long exist as a monument of untiring industry.

Our forces are said to be in possession of Shepardstown, and I see no reason for doubting it, as a large train of wagons could be seen proceeding in that direction this morning. I have late and reliable advices from Gen. Averill, who reports that no movement has yet been made by the enemy to cross the Potomac in force, and that his command still hold possession of the upper fords, which are being carefully watched. Advices from the mountains state that a heavy rain had fallen there. and that it will probably have the effect of making the Potomac unfordable. But as yet no indications of any unusual rise exist in this locality.

A thousand little signs, only discernable to an adept, tend to prove that General Sheridan intends to assume the offensive. Everything now seems to show that the enemy in t e Valley are falling back on Richmond, evidently the result of the recent successful operations in front of Petersburg. The contemplated counter movement is doubtless deemed a failure, and a recall has been sounded.

This will explain much of the mystification regarding operations of this part of our forces. We were to amuse Early while the real key movement was executed by Warren on the Weldon railroad. Doubtless the falling back of General Sheridan on Halltown was only a seductive snare to allure the rebel General en and keep him engaged.

No other items of interest exist in this immediate neighborhood. The Ferry is fearfully crowded by army wagons, officials, orderlies, guards, sutlers, and hangers-on generally. Yesterday a large number of disloyal citizens from Berry ville and Charlestown were sent down on the train, and to-day a squad of rebel prisoners of war departed under a strong guard. FORRESTER.

From James River.

[Correspondence New York Herald.] GEN. BUTLER'S HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 22, 7 a. m.—Diligent inquiry enables me to state that the number of rebel troops opposed to us in the late operations at and in front of Deep Bottom, on the north bank of the James river, amounted to 14,000 men. They were made up of Major Gen. Fields' division, consisting of five brigades; Major Gen. Mahone's division, three brigades of Wilcox's division, one brigade of Bushrod Johnson's division, Wade Hampton's cavalry, and a few reserved militia defending Chapin's Bluff.

It is not improper to state that it has finally been determined that the forces lately operating at Deep Bottom can, in the new phase of military affairs that has precipitated itself incident to our holding the Weldon railroad, be of more service to the cause elsewhere. Consequently they were withdrawn on the night of the 20th inst., and new dispositions made of them to suit new and important complications, which will be made apparent in good time.

THE STAMP TAX.—Frequent errors are re-ported in connection with the new stamp tax. Stamps are now required on all bank checks, drafts or orders for money drawn on banks or trust companies. Also on all money drawn on individuals or other corporations exceeding $10 in amount. Receipts for the payment of any sum of money or for the payment of any debt due, exceeding $20, not being for the satisfaction of any mortgage or judgment on deeree of any court, and a receipt for the delivery of any property must bear a two cent stamp .-Phila. Ledger.

COTTON VS. SALTPETRE .- The triends of guncotton are pressing its advantages over gunpowder very actively. Its weight is only onesixth of that of gunpowder. It produces no smoke; it does not foul; it does not heat. With but one-fourth the weight of a gunpowder charge, it gives equal initial velocity, and in shells one-third of the weight produces double the explosive force. The damp and exposure do not alter its qualities.

FROM CITY POINT.

Gold, 254 X.

The mail steamer John Brooks, Capt. Bender, arrived at the Sixth street wharf at six o'clock this morning from City Point at 10 a. m. yesterday, with the mails and passengers, among the latter being several hundred men from New Orleans, belorging to the several regiments of the 19th corps.

She reports that at last accounts all was quiet in front of Warren, who holds an impregnable position on the railroad, but the enmy are laboriously entrenching themselves in front, as if believing that our advance in that direction is intended to go beyond the Weldon road, are much puzzled how to proceed to recover the road by which almost all their troops and supplies were procured from the South. The indications are that the Rebels will receive another astonisher very shortly.

Twenty-six deserters who came over to our lines on Tuesday night were brought up on the Brooks. They took the oath as soon as they reached our lines and expressed themselves as highly gratified with the change. They tell the same story of the dissatisfaction of the Confederate soldiers, and repeat the assertions that the desertions would be much more numerous if it was not that the men are made to believe that they will be put in our army as soon as they reach our lines. The evening before the Brooks left (Tuesday 450 more prisoners were brought to City Point, captured on the Weldon Road.

CAIRO, Aug. 34.—The Bulletin says the rebel force that entered Memphis on Sunday morning, consisted of nine regiments of cavalry and four guns, under Forrest in person. Only half of the command entered the city, the remainder stopping outside to prevent their retreat being cut off. They captured about 250 prisoners, mostly 100 days' men, many of whom escaped, and others were murdered. The rebels fired on the patients in the hos pitals and shot several sick soldiers, and captured others Those who were unable to keep up with the cavalry were killed. But for the prompt action of the 8th Iowa regiment the prisoners in the Irving prison might have been released and the Bulletin office sacked. The rebels suddenly left the city, about six o'clock, followed by a considerable force of our troops, and a fight occurred near the lanes, lasting two hours, in which they were severely punished and driven off. It was here that Colonels Starr and Kendrick were wounded, in coming through the lanes. The rebels cap tured two guns and a section of the 7th Wisconsin battery, and a number of one hundred day men; but were obliged to abandon the guns

LOCAL NEWS.

CASE OF GRAND LARCENY .- Last night, about 8 o'clock, Officers Pendal and Fuss, of the Fourth Ward, arrested Wm. John Brooks and James Brown for disorderly conduct, at No. 10 Marble Alley, which is kept by Nellie Matthews. Nellie is not at home just now, being on a visit to the springs for health and recreation, and the house and business is in charge of Nellie Hill. Brown and Brooks were cutting at each other with knives, as if determined to take life, to satisfy a dispute they had about money. About the time of their arrest Officer Donn arrested Stephen Conner, a soldier of the 10th Pennsylvania volunteers, for being drunk. It subsequently appeared at the station-house that Conner had been robbed, and the two disorderly men, Brown and Brooks, were held for trial on that charge also. Nellie Hill testified that the prisoners went to the house in the morning, and were talking together-a kind of "blind talk." She heard them talking about going through the house and going down into the girls' stockings for money, Conner was lying in the yard drunk, and the prisoners went into the yard and took his money out of his pocket and counted it out. It was a little over ten dollars. They boasted of having been at the Park to a pic-nic, and took a Dutchman's money, and the police were not sharp enough to catch him. One boasted that he had been through Washington three times, and was going through again. Conner testified that he had been with the prisoners two or three days, and gave his watch to Brown. He had twenty-five or twenty-six dollars when he laid down in the yard, and the money was taken from him. When the prisoners were taken to the station-house they were searched. Conner's watch was found on Brown. Six hundred dollars, in hundred and fifty-dollar notes, were found folded up in tin foil, resembling a package of fine-cut tobacco, and $115 in small notes of every denomination. twisted up in strings and small lumps, giving considerable trouble to untwist them, were found loose, in Rrown's pocket. The prisoners were sent to jail for court, and Conner was turned over to the military, by Justice Giber-

THE PROCEEDS OF FINES .- Under the last act of Congress, providing that the proceeds of the fines levied and collected by the Criminal Court, with the fines levied by Justices of the Peace for selling liquor to soldiers, &c., shall be paid into the treasury of the Corporation of Washington and Georgetown, and the Levy Court for the benefit of the school funds, the Marshal of the District has paid over the amount received by the court, $5,523,10-Washington receiving one-half and Georgetown and the County one-fourth each. The first magistrate who has thus complied with the law is Mr. Reaver, of Georgetown, who, a few mornings ago, handed over to the Mayor $60 as the Corporation's share of the fines imposed by him since approval of the act.

Sick.—Yesterday the police of the 5th Ward found a colored man lying in a dying state in a gravel bank on 2d street east, and took him to the station house, and summoned Doctors McKim and McCoy, who have rendered every assistance in their power. He was still living this morning but will not last long. The general impression seems to be that he is a contraband, and becoming sick his companions got tired of him and threw him out.

STATE OF THE THERMOMETER .- At Frank lin & Co.'s, opticians, No. 244 Pennsylvania avenue, the thermometer stood to-day at 1 o'clock, 87 in the shade, and 95 in the sun.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN .- Closing a Ranche This morning, Wm. Fowler, the proprietor of a well known ranche, was arrested by the military and was taken before Justice Buckey, by order of Major Littler, to be tried for selling liquor to soldiers. Major Littler himself proscuted the case, and the proof being positive. the justice ordered Fowler to pay $21.22 fine and costs. Fowler paid cheerfully, and was about leaving the office with the remark, "I believe I'll go and take a drink," when Maj. Littler remarked, "You'll take a drink at Forrest Hall," and immediately turned him over to a guard, who carried him to the prison. Fowler's house and stock is now in charge of a guard The charges against him are selling liquor to soldiers, and selling citizens' clothing to soldiers. The police, who are much gratified with this disposition of the case, gave the ranche an awful name. A soldier named Kelly, a witness against Fowler, declares that he was robbed of $328 in that house. The ran che will hardly be opened by Fowler while Major Littler is provost marshal of Georgetown. A Deserter from Mosby's Men.—This morning, patrolman Drill arrested a man named William Boyle, who was loitering about the boats in the canal. Boyle claimed to be a deserter from Mosby, and says he has been with him two years. He deserted a few weeks ago, and has een until within a few days hiding in the woods. His story is plausible, but it is suspected that he is a bounty jumper. He was immediately turned over to the military.

Enormous buckles have come into fash ion with the Paris belles. Some measure in length several inches, and of course enormously wide waistbands are required to accompany them. These waistbands are fashioned of silk, and made to fit the figure very like a short stay; small strips of whalebone are inserted between the silk and lining.

A communication printed in the New York Post, respecting private insand asylums, is attracting a good deal of attention. The writer charges that some of them are mere prison houses, in which a man incarcerates his daughter or wife when he prefers to have her out of his way, and daughters imprison their aged mother in order to enjoy the larger part of her income.
